

WE NOMINATE

Philip Wisner Quigg, who this week after four years of distinguished service bows out as editor of the 61-year old Princeton Alumni Weekly and prepares to join the editorial staff of Foreign Affairs, the quasi-official but privately supported publication that frequently serves as a sounding-board for the architects of the Nation's foreign policy. Described by a rival editor as "one of the most talented and original men in the magazine field," the 34-year old Quigg has carried the Weekly to new heights, has earned honors by experimenting boldly and has done as much as any member of the Princeton community in bridging the gulf of misunderstanding which unfortunately lies between so-called "intellectuals and non-intellectuals."

Ever since his early years in secondary school Quigg has been marked for the responsibilities of editorship—best defined, according to Quigg, as a position concerned with "policy, research, writing, editing, layout, photo-editing and negotiation with writers and photographers." From the editorial board of his boarding-school paper, The Choote News, he moved on to the editorial chairmanship of The Daily Princetonian and to graduation with highest honors from the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs. With time out for World War II Army service, culminated by 18 months of overseas duty as a master sergeant in military intelligence, Quigg in the past decade has permitted nothing to interfere with his interest in the creation, interpretation and presentation of news.

Prior to assuming direction of the Weekly in 1951, Quigg completed a demanding five-year apprenticeship

—a year-plus as a general news reporter with a leading Westchester (N.Y.) daily and four years with the Princeton University Fund, the agency charged with all facets of the University's fund-raising program. In the first position, his "beat" ranged from the police-desk and city hall to public schools and editorial assignments, while his experience with the Fund Office included the writing and production of highly-specialized letters, pamphlets and brochures, all of which required a searching knowledge of the University's major operations.

In 1953, two years after he had succeeded Ernest T. Stewart, the self-supporting Weekly (with a circulation in excess of 28,000) was for the first time awarded the Sibley Award, the honor annually conferred by the American Alumni Council upon "the outstanding alumni magazine of the year." Quigg had hit upon a novel formula for the only publication of its kind in the country. He introduced a new type of photographic essay, made the magazine more representative of the intellectual life of the university and accentuated the Weekly's independence and editorial integrity by publishing the controversial as well as "the good" and substituting tightly-written features and analyses of educational issues for the banalities traditionally associated with alumni and university "house organs."

For never forgetting that the successful editor is first of all a good reporter; for broadening Princeton's understanding of Princeton and of the University that bears its name; for taking the next step forward in a career in which his adopted community is so deeply interested; he is Town Topics' nominee for Shopping Center Sold. The 20-plus tenants of the Princeton Shopping Center have been notified of the sale of the multi-million dollar property, effective immediately. In a registered letter informing them of the transaction, George Warnecke, president of the Property Credit Corporation of New York, said that the sale had taken place following default of the mortgage.

The center, entering its second year of operation, was developed by Clearview Associates, of which Theodore R. Potts of 55 Harrison Street is president. The new owner will be the Property Credit Corporation, although it is understood that the Travelers Insurance Co. of Hartford holds the mortgage.

No formal announcement of the sale of the Center has been made, either on the part of the Property Credit Corporation or

Sophomore Captain

One of the highest honors in the realm of college sport—the captaincy of a varsity team at the end of sophomore year—was conferred this past week upon a 20-year-old Princetonian, John W. Lapsley, who was elevated to the captaincy of Harvard University's varsity crew for the 1956 season. The captain-elect, first Harvard athlete to earn such distinction in the past 15 years, is the son of Mrs. William D.O. Lippincott of Arretion Road and the late Howard Lapsley.

A graduate of Princeton Country Day School, Lapsley prepared for Harvard at St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H. He is the third member of his family to pull a Harvard varsity oar in the past quarter-century. His uncle, John W. Hallowsell, captained the Crimson's 1931 varsity eight, while a second uncle, Roger Hallowsell, was a two-year regular at Harvard.

Clearview Associates. The latter said earlier in the week that no statement would be forthcoming at least until Friday.

The letter to the Shopping Center tenants did, however, serve to confirm reports that had been anticipating such a transaction for several weeks. Operation of the Center was not expected to be affected by the change in ownership.

Leadership of the Center's Merchants Association has also changed hands, it was announced this week. Mr. George Hahner of Frederick Harris replaces John A. Archer of University Cleaners as president.

Al Roth of Weiss Clothes is the association's new secretary. The post had formerly been held by Mr. Hahner.

ERIE MILHAN of the English Shop was elected president of the Princeton Business Association at the Peacock Inn Monday. Loren Quicke of Woolworth's was elected vice-president and Meyer Goldstein of Viedt's treasurer.

At the meeting, the main topic was a discussion of "The Future of the Business Section," by Herbert Smith of Community Planning Associates, who have just completed a study of the problem. An additional comment on the report was given by Martin Rody, general director of the firm.

Both have pointed out that growth towards the outskirts of town is the major problem facing Princeton businessmen, and suggested that any rezoning plans be drawn to expand business back from Nassau Street rather than along it. Mr. Rody pointed out that the move to Lawrence Township by Educational Testing Service is significant of the trend. A representative from the Suburban Transit Company addressed the group in a plea for backing of the proposed new bus route from New York to Princeton. However, the motion on his petition was tabled by the group without reaching a decision.

A report by Mr. Quicke on Silver Dollar Day gave the overall reaction as good. He pointed out the need for better and earlier publicity to achieve greater success in the future.

my Neuro-Psychiatric Institute struck two cars and a light pole, overturning in his own on Nassau Street Saturday night, shortly before 7 o'clock. He was given a test on the drunkometer at Princeton Hospital, which police reported as "positive," and charged with driving while intoxicated.

LeRoy Roach, operator of the car, hit another as he was driving east on Nassau Street just beyond the Witherup-on Street intersection. The driver of the other automobile was Mrs. Helen L. Kent, 275 Haverhill Road, who was proceeding in the opposite direction.

At the intersection of Pine and Nassau Streets, according to police, Roach struck a car being driven by Eugene W. Main, 275 Kent, Kingston. As a result of the crash, Mr. Purdy had splinters of glass removed from his arm.

Roach's car continued down Nassau Street, striking a Public Service pole near the intersection of Nassau and 1st Gray Place and turning over on its roof. Taken to Princeton Hospital in the First Aid Unit ambulance, he was found to have only minor injuries and was then charged with drunken driving. Sergeant Raymond Mondone and Patrolmen Arthur Gollant and Randolph Applegate investigated.

In court Tuesday, Magistrate Paul H. Chesler sentenced Roach to 30 days in the county workhouse. He also revoked the defendant's license for two years.

Proof of the ruiding. A car that crashed while residents of Carter Road were reporting its high speed to State Police injured two men Saturday night. Lloyd M. Remk, 25, of the Groves Mill-Clarksville Road, the driver, and George Clark, 27, of the Sauerhill Road, were treated

Magazines for Fort Dix

Soldiers in the Fort Dix Army Hospital need current magazines which families vacationing away from home may not miss. Those who are leaving home for the summer, and wish to have the servicemen receive their magazines for that period are asked to notify the Princeton Post Office. They will hold the periodicals for the weekly pickup by the Princeton Red Cross Volunteer Service Group.

for their injuries at Princeton Hospital.

Police said that they received a call shortly after 7 p. m. claiming that a 1955 Jaguar was traveling at a high rate of speed on Carter Road, just west of Elm Ridge Road in Hopewell Township. The car struck an embankment there, rolled over and was badly smashed. Mr. Remk will face a charge of reckless driving.

Other Court Action. Miss Kathryn M. Gulin, 50 William Street, paid a $30 fine for leaving the scene of an accident. She pleaded no guilt to the charge.

Roach's license, 88 West Prospect Street, Hopewell, was fined $105 for driving a car after his license had been revoked. Other fines went to:

Louis A. Divas, 44 Vandewater Avenue, driving an unregistered vehicle, $12; Michael Zecole, 32 Humbert Street, speeding, $10; Americo Arcamone, 84 Leigh Avenue, and Colin Lancaster, ID 1, speeding, $15 each; Edmund L. Keceley, 1 Quenton Place, improper U-turn, $5.

Firemen Will Parade on Friday. The annual parade and inspection of the Princeton Volunteer Fire Department will be staged this Friday night. Charles J. Rocknak, a member of Mercer Engine Co. No. 3, is the 1955 fire chief.

Music for the occasion will be provided by the Crescent Temple String Band of Trenton and the Hamilton Township Band. Princeton Engine Co. No. 1 will leave its Chestnut Street headquarters and march up Hamilton Avenue to Witherspoon, picking up Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1 en route to Chambers Street, home of Mercer Engine Co. No. 3.

The full parade will then move down Nassau Street about 7 p. m. to Olden Avenue. Inspection of the men and apparatus will be held on the Olden Avenue and William Street field. Members of Borough Council and Mayor Sturges will be present for the occasion, with the latter making a brief address.

Boys' State Delegates Named. Five young men from the Princeton area will be among more than 600 boys who will gather at the Rutgers campus Sunday for a week to attend the 10th Annual Jersey Boys' State, sponsored by the American Legion.

The boys, selected from their high and preparatory schools on a basis of character, scholarship and leadership, will receive leadership training.

It's New to Us

Lots of House . . . for your money is always a welcome situation when you're considering the purchase of something so large that it has to have four walls and a roof to hold it up. The latest house we have seen is an excellent one designed by the American Small Homes Council of the University of Illinois, on assignment for the Lumber Dealers Research Council.

The house—and there are many variations and many models—is on display now in Middlebush at the Building Center just across the railroad track. (Take the Kingston Road as far as Franklin Park, turn left five miles to Railroad Square, then left at tracks.)

You may have this model house for about $12,000 to $14,000 on your own lot, complete except for appliances. Payments are about $85 a month, and for this sum you have a well-planned house in the small-homes bracket, spacious because it is shrewdly designed.

Living-room with one redwood paneled wall, one window wall, three bedrooms opening off a hallway, linen closet with adjustable shelves, kitchen built on the U-plan with service bar and dining-area, laundry alcove instead of the conventional utility room, and closets throughout the house that are eight feet long and eight feet high. They provide an abundance of storage space on shelves built above the clothes bars.

In the master bedroom, the closet is divided in half by a tier of five shelves for handbags, shoes, hats and other hard-to-store things. The closets and the laundry alcove are enclosed by folding doors of basswood that run along tracks.

Outside the kitchen door there is a regular wind-tunnel of a breezeway—12 feet wide and a full 24-feet long. As the house is built, the breezeway roof is insulated so that when a handy-man converts the area into another room the insulation is already there. The garage is also 12 by 24.

This house, or variations of it which the Building Center will be glad to show you, can be set on your own basement if you want a cellar. It can also be widened or lengthened in units of two or four feet because it is made from modular panels that are fabricated in the lumber yard at Middlebush and trucked to your lot. Put it up yourself if you want to, but the Building Center will have a contractor do it if you prefer.

The outside of the house is Rusticwood, stained a dark redwood shade, the windows are Flexiview by Anderson. In the living-room the window wall opens at the bottom with fixed panes at the top. Screens and storm sash fit into the window from the inside.

The house qualifies for V.A. and F.H.A. loans and the model can be seen daily from 9-5, evenings by appointment.

Burning Bright. The tiger that has been glowering out at passersby from the window of Princeton Stationers, 86 Nassau, continues to attract customers and will probably be signed on as a permanent member of the staff. He comes from the Museum of Natural History in New York and is terribly stuffy about his aristocratic origins. The imported cubs in various sizes that play about his whiskers are West German toys, not blood relations.

Upstairs at Princeton Stationers there is now a whole new line of home and office cabinets. These metal pieces are indispensable in an office of course, but equally useful in a home where there are always valuable family papers, such as report cards, that need to be filed away.

In the collection there are standard filing cabinets, either suspension or non-suspension, blueprint cabinets, such office esoterica as mobilizers and systemizers, and even things called one-man offices, with shelves and drawers all gathered behind one set of doors.

Desks are grouped in the executive or budget category, and are steel like the cabinets. The finish on all pieces is a soft shade of light grey and the maker is Steelmaster. Want something that isn't in stock? Princeton Stationers will order it for you.

This shop has also taken on the Polaroid Land Camera ($69 up), with its fascinating on-the-spot developing and printing mechanism. If you have no camera at all and want one temporarily, the shop will rent you anything from a Brownie up to a movie camera. No reservations necessary, but there is a deposit.

Cologne Cooler. With summer just about ready to take a good deep hot breath, the cosmetic manufacturers have loaded their bottles with cologne so that you'll beat the heat.

At Thorne's Drug Store, 168 Nassau, we found cooling colognes from almost every big name in cosmetics. There is the Summer Shower ensemble from Matchabelli, with dusting powder, bath soap, bubble bath, deodorant, cream perfume and the cologne. Tussy assembles several different scents and offers the $2, 8-ounce size in cologne for only President Katharine E. McBride of Bryn Mawr College who received an Honorary Doctor of Laws degree at Princeton's 208th Commencement, is the 11th woman so to be honored by the University.

Miss McBride, who was cited for devoting a "fine mind and bright spirit to the task of providing a truly liberal education to women of all races, creeds and nationalities," joins a select company of LL.D. holders. Only Queen Juliana of the Netherlands and Dr. Virginia C. Gildersleeve, formerly Dean of Barnard College, have been recipients.

The group will train for the next two weeks with the entire battalion in the field. Captain Donald said the emphasis would be on small unit and individual tactics, while an additional assignment will be training recruits from the 103rd Armored Group.

The troops travelling by train will leave from the Pennsylvania Station in Trenton at 9 p. m. They will arrive at Camp Drum about 2 p. m. on Saturday.

The motor convoy will travel first to Flemington and then to Phillipsburg, where it will join the main battalion column. The enlarged group will proceed to Cortland, N. Y., on Saturday, and —Continued on Page 5

IF YOU ARE THINKING OF GAS HEAT ---

THEN the INFORMATION Below Is

MUST READING FOR YOU!

Features OF THE NEW BURNHAM BOILER

WITH TANKLESS HEATER and POWER BURNER!

1. LOW FUEL BILLS FOR HEATING:

This gas boiler is so heavily insulated and so well designed that the heat wasted in the cellar whether burner is on or off (called "standby loss") is hardly more than equivalent loss of a good automatic gas water heater. Its power burner, usually found only in large commercial jobs, introduces secondary air. This gives a hotter flame, thus conserving gas and reducing your fuel bill further.

2. LOW FUEL BILLS FOR YOUR HOT WATER NEEDS:

The same boiler which heats your house, when used with a tankless heater (optional), can provide you with all the hot water you need to wash dishes, clothes, and yourself. The Burnham gas boiler therefore has only one "standby" loss for each of the 12 months of the year. Most gas boilers cannot operate efficiently with tankless heaters — and you must buy two heating instruments to do the job which Burnham does with one. With two heating instruments you get about the same 12 month a year "standby loss" on an automatic water heater, plus a "standby loss" for eight months of the year heating boiler during the heating season.

3. LOW FIRST COSTS:

The Burnham boiler with tankless heater costs less than an equal quality boiler plus a good quality automatic water heater, especially when you add in the extra labor and piping.

4. PLENTY OF HOT WATER:

You can't beat the instantaneous feature, favorite with dealers on oil boilers for many years. And because of the low "standby loss," you can economically install a larger size boiler than would be required merely for heating your house. This is especially convenient where you have two complete bathrooms, or other fixtures making heavy demands on hot water such as dishwashers. The difference in fuel costs if you increase the boiler size by one section is "peanuts" in the opinion of leading independent public utility engineers.

5. DRY CELLAR, WELL PRESERVED BOILER:

Without summer boiler operation with a tankless heater, your boiler may rust from disuse in a damp cellar caused by condensation. And even if you waste fuel by keeping your pilot light on to prevent this, you will not get enough heat to take the dampness out of the cellar—you will not be able to prevent rusting of tools, etc.

6. HANDSOME APPEARANCE, SPACE SAVING SIZE:

See it in our showroom.

7. THE PROOF OF SATISFACTORY PERFORMANCE:

Until this boiler came out many experts doubted whether a satisfactory gas boiler could be mass produced with a tankless heater. This boiler, designed by Tony Donohue —inventor of the modern wet base boiler design—has proved itself in countless installations right in this area. It is fully approved by leading public utilities.

Deciding to scale the peak when discharged, they reached the summit of the mountain, which is in the Karakoram Range, on June 8. Both received their early climb-

He has been chairman of the Building Code of Appeals for the Borough and a member of the Zoning Board of Princeton Township. He is preparing for publication a volume on the architecture of the Cotswold Hills in England, and has published a work called "Three Basic Alphabets."

Hun Summer Session. The Hun School will hold its annual summer school session from July 10 to August 20, a six-week period. Headmaster Paul R. Chesbro has announced.

The session, which is open to all qualified high school and preparatory school students, is designed to give them extra grounding in any field where they may be having difficulty. Each boy will be expected to carry two courses a day, while in the afternoon, sporting facilities including golf, tennis and swimming will be available. Information may be obtained from Dr. Paul R. Chesbro, headmaster, or Paul A. Furrer, assistant headmaster.

Erosion Control Projected. The Department of Agriculture has begun surveys to determine work needed to control the losses of soil and water through erosion in the Stony Brook-Millstone area.

Working with the members of the Watershed Association are surveyors who are the first detachment from a National Work Plan Party. The group, under the sponsorship of the Agriculture Department, will plan the required work, including strip cropping, terracing and tree planting.

According to Malcolm P. Crooks, executive director of the Watershed Association, further improvement can be accomplished under the sponsorship of the Hope-Aiken Act. This provides for the study and erection of suitable structures to prevent erosion and flooding.

However, Mr. Crooks emphasized, before any dam can be built, 85% of the critical erosion areas above the dam site must have been treated with the necessary conservation practices. In addition, the Federal Government will only consider a dam if the cost will be exceeded by the potential profit.

Professors Speak. Arthur L. Bigelow, Dr. Albert W. Tucker and Dr. John C. Whitwell, Princeton University professors, all spoke at the annual meeting of the American Society for Engineering Education, held this week at Penn State University. Mr. Bigelow, Assistant Professor of Graphics and University Fellow, spoke on "Graphic Methods for the Design of Belts and Carillons," while Dr. Tucker, chairman of the Mathematics Department, spoke on "Mathematics of Linear Programming." Dr. Whitwell, Professor of Chemical Engineering, spoke on "Techniques for Exploratory Research and Development."

Bound for Annapolis Ronald C. Trosbach of 22 Cedar Lane, a graduate of Princeton High School this June, will enter the United States Naval Academy on Monday and be sworn in as a midshipman.

At Princeton High, Mr. Trosbach was active on the school soccer and tennis teams, a member of the school band, student court attorney and a reporter on the Tower, the school paper. He received his appointment as First Alternate from the Fourth Congressional District from former Congressman Charles R. Howell.

Ewing Honored by Butler. Dr. Douglas H. Ewing, administrative director of the R.C.A. Laboratories, was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Science at the Butler University Commencement Monday in Indianapolis.

A graduate of Butler in 1935, Dr. Ewing, who lives at 68 Laurel Road, was cited as "an outstanding scientist and capable administrator" who has been "distinguished for unusual contributions to one of the most important fields of human endeavor." A former associate professor at Smith College, Dr. Ewing joined R.C.A. in 1945 after spending the war working in the Radiation Laboratories at MIT.

New Teaching Assignments. Four Princeton teachers will be transferred to new posts, while eight will take up new jobs with the school system for the academic year 1955-56. It has been announced by the Borough Board of Education.

$1. Coty's offering is a toilet water with a lock atomizer that won't spray unless it's in the proper position—perfect for a travel bag. Hudnut gives its cologne the cryptic label, "RSVP Cascades," and offers the 8-ounce $1.65 bottle for 85c. Yardley enters the field with its Bath Beauties—lavender soap and talc at $1 for a $1.25 value.

Travelers will want the little capsules made by the Matthews people at 20 for $1. In one case, there are 20 "Shampoo-ets," capsules that look like vitamins, but are really filled with concentrated shampoo and hair conditioner.

Another envelope has 20 "Nylonets" for laundering (and whitening) nylon garments and there is "Foam-rich," for any fabric.

Each envelope is the size of a thank-you note, and slips into a traveling bag as easily as a handkerchief.

—"Museum Feet." Clayton's, on on Palmer Square West, is ready to pamper the traveler's weary feet with Mocasetts, in soft glove leathers. The store also provides travel bags from $1 to $6 in plastic or taffeta to carry cosmetics and etceteras. Some are fitted, others are little pouches waiting for you to fit them out. One even has a folding hanger to hook over the shower bar. (A metal hanger for $1.95 has a dozen colored clothespins firmly attached.)

For those who aren't going quite so far, there is the Buffet Bag, an oblong bag (3 sizes) for picnics. It will keep hot foods hot for about four hours, and cold foods cold for even longer. To prolong the chill, there is an envelope of that stuff you freeze in the ice-cube tray and then put between the chicken sandwiches to keep them fresh.

Beach towels for beachcombers and burrowers-into-the-sand come in wider stripes every year. This season brings a regular flag of a towel with stripes so wide there's only room for three of them—and gold fringe around the edges! Stand at attention when this one goes by.

The hostess who sets a dining table instead of a picnic table has a choice of some new place mats they have now at Clayton's. One is a big (16-inch diameter) round mat in stark white plastic, molded so that it looks like embroidered linen.

Oblong plastics mats in white, pink, deep green and many other shades, are also molded to resemble embroidery and cut-out work. They are 59c each. Italy sends straw mats in lovely pastels or rich dark colors. There is a natural mat, too, and a good brown one, as strong and dark as Espresso.

Leacock has a new mat this summer that is called the Shagmat. Woven, but finer and lighter in texture and weight than the early woven placemats, this one is marked for the summer table. For any place mat, Clayton's has a large pile of white or colored napkins, solid and piped with a contrast.

And speaking of light—examine, through a microscope if you have one, the Sassy Panty, a nylon stretch thing that folds into a three-inch cylinder container and fits any woman who puts it on. Only one size, but what a stretch!

Eisenhower Popularity Is Up.
President Eisenhower continues to earn a vote of confidence from a solid majority of the state's voters. His popularity index, as recorded in New Jersey Polls, continues high. It is higher today than it has been at any time since March, 1954—nearly 16 months ago.

In conducting today's Poll on Mr. Eisenhower's popularity, a continuing feature of the New Jersey Poll, staff reporters put this question to a cross-section of voters across the state:

"Do you approve or disapprove of the way Eisenhower is handling his job as President?"

The statewide results:
Approve 73%
Disapprove 21
No opinion 6

Eleven weeks ago, the favorable vote was 71%; the unfavorable vote, 22%, while 7% expressed no opinion.

Today's unfavorable vote is the lowest it has been since March, 1954, when the same proportion as today—21%—expressed disapproval.

Survey findings show that an overwhelming majority of the state's GOP voters—more than nine out of every ten—today approve of the way the President is handling his job. At the same time, 71% of all Independent voters questioned give the President a definite nod of approval.

Noteworthy, too, is that majority opinion among rank and file Democrats (54%) expresses approval.

The vote by political party affiliation:

	Rep.	Dem.	Ind.
Approve	93%	54%	71%
Disapprove	5	38	21
No opinion	2	8	8

Worthy of particular mention, too, is the fact that in every other population group examined in today's statewide survey, at least two out of every three express approval of the way the President is handling his job. This holds true for men and women, and for people in all age groups, city sizes, educational levels, and occupational groups.

During his nearly two and a half years in office, President Eisenhower's standing with voters has been marked by the absence of any wide fluctuations in his popularity.

The range of popular approval has been between the all-time high of 80% and a low of 63%— a spread of only 17 points.

Princeton Aids Korea. The Foster Parents' Plan for War Children has received a $1,889.15 contribution from the students of Princeton University, Miss Gloria
C. Matthews, the Plan's Director in the United States and Canada, announced last week.

The contribution, a part of the results of the Campus Fund Drive, will be used for the Korean Teacher's Fund. According to the Plan Director in Korea, Robert W. Sage, $20 a month plus room and board is the standard teaching salary, but many orphanages cannot afford even that amount.

Rabbi Appointed. Princeton's Jewish Center will have a full-time rabbi for the first time when Rabbi Joseph H. Gelberman assumes his duties with the Center on August 15.

A native of Hungary, Dr. Gelberman received his Rabbinical degree from the Yeshiva in Hungary. He also holds a degree from the College of the City of New York and he attended Columbia University. He was founder and Rabbi of the New Light Temple in New York City.

After serving as a chaplain in the Army for three years, he became Rabbi of the Israel Center of Hillcrest Manor and for the past several years has served as Rabbi-Director of the Milford Jewish Center, Milford, Connecticut.

Rabbi Gelberman will live in Princeton with his wife, the former Dora Tannenbaum, executive director of the Grand Street Settlement, New York.

Princeton's Jewish Center on Olden Avenue is now completing its sixth year as a liberal cultural, religious and social center. About 100 families are members of the center, and approximately 65 children attend the Center School.

An earlier congregation, the B'nai Zion, had been in existence almost twenty years before it merged with the new Center in 1949 under the presidency of William Miller. At that time, some 25 families met in Murray Dodge with Dr. Murray Levey as director. Subsequent directors have been student rabbis who have served on a part-time basis.

Committee Meets. The final meeting on the Educational Testing Service plan to build new Lawrenceville is scheduled for Wednesday night, eliminating a first reading of the ordinance before the Township Committee at its meeting last week.

The zoning change was one of two put before the committee. The other would permit E. O. Kling to change the zoning on his 300-acre farm from Rural B to Residential A-1, a proposal which was rejected by a split vote from the Township Planning Board.

The E.T.S. re-zoning, which would involve some 300 acres of land owned by Fred Schluter on the Rosedale Road, is favored by most of the residents in the area. However, they are concerned that the change might permit some less desirable firm or research group to move into the same area.

There will be a meeting of the committee and planning board together on Monday or Wednesday if the five commitments and seven planners can so arrange. Mayor J. Russell Smith asked that there be perfect attendance "to discuss this matter for once and for all."

Mrs. Marie Loyless was installed as the deputy clerk for the township at last week's meeting. In a newly-created post. She succeeds Mrs. Della L. Nash, the regular clerk, who will retire in September.

Sewer rentals in the area will be based on water consumption in the first three months of the year rather than the first six, which is the present practice. Committee-man Lloyd Carver suggested the move, as sewer users complained that they were paying rents on water used to sprinkle the lawns in May and June.

School Golfers Win. The Lawrenceville golf team, paced by Captain Ed O'Donnell, downed the Choate School by two strokes to take the team championship last week at the 39th Eastern Inter-scholastic Golf Tournament in Greenwich, Conn. Black, which trailed Hill School after the first day of the tournament, rallied to score an aggregate total of 657 to 659 for the Wallingford, Conn. school. It also placed three men in the individual match play, among 13 other competitors.

Individual scoring for the team, which is coached by Sidney Shea, found Don Norbury notching a 76-77-153, Captain O'Donnell with an 82-81-163, and Charles Reeder, 83-82-165. The fourth member of the team to make the trip was Jon Kelly.

Salk Shots Decline. Less than half the 335 children signed up for Salk vaccine shots in April took them during the mass vaccinations. Only 115 of these children were re-committed to the shots by their parents signing new contracts. This includes only students in the first and second grades at the Township school.

In the immediate Trenton area, less than 25 per cent of the children enrolled in public and parochial schools were present to receive their immunization. In six public schools in the city, only 169 of the 548 eligibles received their free inoculations.

News of the Theatres
"Summer Scene Changes. Instead of a blank on the local summer, theatrical scene, announcements this week indicate that there will be five productions spread through the summer. Buskins and Socks, the new group of young people, and the Community Players will be the producers.
All of the shows will run for a full week and will be presented in Murray Theatre on the University Campus. The schedule: week starting July 4, "Grammercy Ghost" (B&S); July 25, "Taming of the Shrew" (CP); August 8, either "Dial M for Murder" or
"The Inspector Calls" (B&S); August 22, "The Doctor in Spite of Himself" (CP), and September 5,
"George Washington Slept Here"
(B&S).
A combination that runs from mystery to Shakespeare, Moliere and George Kauffman turns out to be quite interesting, though the two organizations are quite independent of each other.

BUSKINS AND SOCKS
The group of young people known as Buskins and Socks have planned a season with the ingenuity-provoking "shoestring budget." The group of approximately 30 boys and girls are planning shows which they can handle at a minimum of expense and in accord with their age and training.
Ali Ghitto will direct them in the first production, "Grammercy Ghost," which opens July 4 for a Monday-Saturday run. The John Cecil Holm play opened in New York in 1951 with Sarah Churchill and Robert Sterling heading the cast.

The B&S box office opens for business this Saturday. The telephone is 3539. Ticket prices will be $1.00 for Monday-Wednesday and $1.50 for Thursday-Saturday.
Sandra Jefferson heads the group as producer, while Morgan Holman will be the theatre manager and Robert Turner the stage manager. Pat Gaskill is in charge of the box office. Pat Mis-call will do the sets for "Grammercy Ghost" and the other two shows.

COMMUNITY PLAYERS
For the first time in their 25-year history, the Community Players will present two summertime dramatic offerings, Thomas Potter, chairman of the productions committee, has announced.
This will help fill the void left by the closing of the University Players, the group that usually filled the Murray Theatre bill.
Without this group and Buskins and Socks, there would have been no summer theater in Princeton for the first time in eight years.

The first presentation will be "The Taming of the Shrew," during the week of July 25-30. Mr.
Potter and A. Munro Wade will handle the direction of the piece, while the latter will also take the part of Petruchio.
The second selection is the Moliere comedy, "The Doctor in Spite of Himself." This farce will run from August 22-27 and will be directed by Henry Siegle, a veteran actor who will be making his bow as a director with this work.
Try-outs for "The Taming of the Shrew" will be held this Thursday, June 23. All tickets for all the plays will be priced at $1.

CROCKETT'S SIDEKICK:
Buddy Ebsen is featured in the Walt Disney production coming to the Playhouse.

THE PLAYHOUSE
Davy Crockett (June 23-25) has apparently conquered the nation already through Walt Disney's fabulous advance publicity campaign. The film adapted from his "Disneyland" TV series is good, too, filled with excitement. The primary impact should be on the younger set. Fess Parker is fine as the "king of the wild frontier" and Buddy Ebsen excellent as his sidekick.

The Magnificent Matador (June 26-28) has more of a visual appeal than one of plot. The Cinema-Scope color camera travels over Mexico and Mexico City in particular, catching the colorful country and its highly colorful sport, bullfighting. Anthony Quinne and Maureen O'Hara perform well in the starring roles.

The Seven Year Itch (June 29-July 5) is a comedy of many, many laughs and not too much substance. Tom Ewell as the "summer bachelor" and Marilyn Monroe as quite the girl upstairs do a fine job in a show in which flaws should be cheerfully overlooked by all.

BUCKS COUNTY PLAYHOUSE
Concluding a week's run at the New Hope theatre is "Oliver, Oliver," starring Jesse Royce Landis. A Saturday matinee at 2 and evening performances at 8:30 are included.
"Mornings at Seven," a family-type comedy which blends warmth and humor is scheduled for its initial production on Monday. Philip Bourneuf and Dorothy Sands are cast in the principal roles.

The week beginning July 4 will be marked by the presentation of "Point of No Return," starring Donald Woods. The former Broadway success will be at the Bucks County Playhouse for two weeks.
MUSIC CIRCUS
"Wonderful Town," the Broadway hit musical adaption of the play, "My Sister Eileen," will close a two-week run at St. John Terrell's Music Circus on Sunday, with "Me and Juliet," the Rogers and Hammerstein production, coming in on Tuesday.
Among the cast in the Chodorov and Fields' show are Elsie Rhodes, who is familiar to Circus-goers after her work in "Oklahoma" last season. Helene Bliss, who was at Lambertville two years ago with "Music in the Air" and "The Song of Norway," is another featured player in the show.

Music for the performance was written by Leonard Bernstein, with lyrics by Betty Comden and Adolph Green. Four members of the cast, including Isabell Hoopes, Ted Benaltes, Dort Clark and Marilyn Sable, are recreating their original Broadway roles.
"Me and Juliet," the light musical opening on Tuesday, deals with backstage life and a play-within-a-play situation. Among the songs from the show, which will be orchestrated by the Music Circus Orchestra under the direction of Oscar Kosarin, are Hit Parade numbers "No Other Love," "Keep It Gay," and "Marriage Type Love."
Patricia Wilson, who is featured in the work, has appeared in "Pajama Game" and "Meet the People" and will fill a top role in the new Rogers and Hammerstein musical, "Pipe Dream," which opens this fall.
Other featured players in the piece include Bob Dixon, David Aiken, Peter Turgeon, Doug Rogers, Anne Waugh, Frank Rogier, Johnny Call and Ralph Linn. Mr. Call is a veteran who was playing comedy roles at the theater when it opened in 1949.

GRIST MILL PLAYHOUSE
Paton Price will be the new producer this season at the Grist Mill Playhouse, Andover, which opens its season on July 2 with the Broadway hit, "Guys and Dolls."
Mr. Price has revitalized the theater, adding a number of customer conveniences such as an enlarged and more fully lighted parking area, renovated air-conditioning and a re-done stage, featuring a doubled lighting system. The theater plans to serve free iced tea at the Thursday matinees.

Dancing Class Recital. The Fifth Annual Stepping Stars Revue by the members of the Betty Kehoe Dance Studios will be given Friday night in the auditorium at 8:15.
Among the performers are Linda Dey, who will give a solo on toe; Gay Konover, who will do a solo tap dance; Janet Hill and Bobbie Konover, who will do a duet; and Wendy McKee and Virginia Goeke, who will perform an original composition called "The Scarecrows." All members of the class will perform in the recital.

The program has been arranged in the form of a 1955 Dance Calendar, with every month of the year to be represented. The recital is open to the public without charge.
Music Notes. Frances Clark, who has been described by co-workers as "the top teacher of piano teachers in the country today," will join the Westminster Choir College as head of the Piano Department, Dr. John F. Williamson, president of the college, has announced.
The author of a 30-book series called "Frances Clark Library for Piano Students," she received a Bachelor of Arts from Kalamazoo College. In addition, Miss Clarke has studied at the Juilliard School of Music and the Paris Conservatory under such teachers as Ernest Hutchison and Guy Moler.

Miss Louise Goss, her long-time associate, will join her at Westminster. Miss Goss, who holds a Master of Arts degree in Music Literature from the University of Michigan, has served as music critic of the Ann Arbor Michigan Daily and the Kalamazoo Gazette.
The Robert Shaw Chorale, specialists in both classical and popular music, will make an appearance next January at one of the five concerts presented by the Trenton Community Concerts Association.
The group, which has appeared with the NBC Symphony under Arturo Toscanini, has turned out a tremendous volume of recordings for R.C.A. Victor. Their range of works includes Bach's "St. John Passion" and the "Mass in B Minor" and such popular records "Auralce" and "Seeing Nellie Home" in the "With-Love From a Chorus" album.

Mr. Shaw, a 30-year-old Californian, has been revitalizing choral work in this country, both with his own group and with such organizations as the Boston Symphony, the Los Angeles, and the NBC, CBS, and ABC Symphonies. He has received two honorary doctorates in music for his work.
After graduating from Pomona College, he went to work with the Fred Waring Glee Club while training the choruses for "Carmen Jones," "Laughing Room Only," and "Seven Lively Arts." After serving in the Navy during the Second World War, he became musical director at the Tanglewood Festival and Director of Choral Activities at the Juilliard School of Music in New York.

Paul Allord and H. Stewart Peyton were re-elected first and second vice-chairmen, respectively. Others chosen include Mrs. Joseph Wright II, secretary; Dr. Albert Westcote, treasurer; and Willis G. Nealley, Jr., assistant treasurer. Newly-elected members of the board chosen to serve three-year terms are Mrs. Herbert S. Langfeld, Mrs. Gerald Nelson, Harold Kines and Arthur Wongel.

Mr. Zarker reported that during the past year the Princeton Blood Donor Service contributed more than 1,300 pints of free blood to Princeton Hospital. Other Red Cross activities included 26 services to veterans, service men and civilians through the Home Service Agency, 308 first aid certificates awarded and projects by the 826-member Junior Red Cross and the Disaster Preparedness and Relief Committee.

Mrs. Thomas Mederos, Jr., chairman of the service groups, reported that 15,978 hours of service have been given over the past year by 325 volunteers. The Red Cross Motor Service has covered 22,371 miles, some 25 percent of which was driven by volunteers in their own cars.

Roland Harriman, president of the American National Red Cross. The Red Cross board also accepted "with great regret" the resignation of Mrs. Douglas Delaney as chairman of Home Service. In a resolution presented by Mrs. Gerald Nelson, the board cited Mrs. Delaney's "unfailing interest and attention to the varying needs of the service men, veterans and their families which has been of incalculable value to our wide-spread Red Cross Community."

There is a great danger in the menacing form of that old, discarded ice box or refrigerator that you may have in your back yard.

Every year children die from suffocation because they love to play in these dangerous cabinets. Here's what you should do if you see a discarded box in your neighborhood or in the junk yard:

Remove the door. It's the best way to make such a cabinet safe.

Remove the latch on the door by taking out the screws on the door plate.

Drill holes in the door and remove the rubber gasket.

Outgrown Shop Grows. The Outgrown Shop, which has been steadily increasing its activities since it was founded ten years ago, will move to new quarters in the Houghton Building at 221 Witherspoon Street next fall.

The shop, which has been operating in the Cook Building at 188 Nassau Street, for the past six years, will have the same hours of 10 to 4 when it reopens in the fall. The new quarters will give two large rooms, with separate areas for receiving consignments of clothes and making sales.

The shop, which is open from Monday until Friday, is staffed by volunteers, alumnae and mothers of Miss Fine's School and mothers of Princeton Country Day School students. Operated for the benefit of the two schools, it contributed $1,400 to each school at commencement this year.

The shop operates by buying children's outgrown clothes for one-half the price it can resell them for. Clothes in good condition can be bought at the same time the old articles are brought in.

The board of the Outgrown Shop for the coming year includes Mrs. James C. Sayen and Mrs. Howard White, Jr., of the Miss Fine's School group; and Mrs. Harrison S. Fraker, representing the Princeton Country Day School mothers.

The shop handled approximately 4,500 articles over the past year. They were contributed by about 480 consignors from Princeton, Hightstown, New Brunswick and Robbinsville.

Guests of the Governor

The "Morven" pool will be open to children from Princeton next year "if there are enough attendants," Governor Robert B. Meyner was quoted as saying at his last news conference in Trenton.

Governor Meyner, who hopes to occupy the historic mansion by January 1, said that there would be no water put in the pool this year. "We have only watchmen there and I'm afraid children would use the pool and one might drown because there would be no supervision," he said.

At present, the only part of the building and grounds in use are the tennis courts. However, the Governor hopes to have the $175,000 renovation project finished by the end of this year for winter occupancy.

serve as the director of the Princeton Summer Recreation Program with a staff of 14 members, Mrs. Charles W. Liak, chairman of personnel for the committee, has announced. The eight-week season will open Monday.

Charles Davis will be in charge of the Harrison Street Playground, with Priscilla Cortelyou and Mrs. Mabel Davis assisting him. Robert Siakler will direct activities at the Witherspoon play area, with Miss Catherine Riker assisting him.

The High School play area will be supervised by James L. Briner, with Hugh Dingle substituting for him when he leaves for two weeks Reserve training. Miss Louise Stephan will assist in the activities on this field.

Mrs. Mary B. Moss and Miss Jessie Hurd will be in charge of the John Street pool and the Pine Street pool, respectively. Assisting at the former will be Susan Upshur. Mrs. Anna Lanahan will serve as handicraft instructor, after previously working at the Witherspoon playground.

Mrs. David Saunders will round out the staff, serving as the volunteer director of the Story Reading program, which is conducted by Princeton mothers. Others who will work with this project include Mrs. Cyril Hoyler, Mrs. Shepard Kimberly and Mrs. Gordon Griffin.

McGuire Expanding. McGuire Air Force Base, near Fort Dix, will be expanded considerably by the addition of 700 personnel from the Westover Air Force Base in Massachusetts.

The contingent, the Naval Air Transport Squadron Six, is under the command of Captain Charles E. Robertson, USN. Its mission is to parallel the flights of Air Force transport planes flying the Atlantic routes between Europe and the United States.

The Military Air Transport Service is a major component of the Air Force, resulting from the Unification Act of 1948. When McGuire is fully operational, it will move more than 800 persons a day from Europe, Iceland, Greenland and the Mediterranean.

P.A.C. on Top. Continued good pitching combined with some robust hitting has carried the Princeton Athletic Club to the top of the standings in the Bi-County League. Triumphs last week were recorded over Montgomery Township, which was handed a 3-0 whitewashing, and Neshanic, the loser by a 9-2 count.

Pat Tidey, a member of the Lafayette nine, tossed the shutout at Montgomery, scattering five hits. The victors also made only five, but bunched three successive doubles in the fifth to shove across all their runs.

With Lee American on second and two away, Tidey doubled into the trees in deep right to break the scoreless deadlock. Del Wible slashed another two-bagger to left center to bring Tidey home, and when Ray Davis followed with another blow for two bases into the trees, the P.A.C. had all it needed.

Bob Dennen was the Princeton catcher, Drake, with Bergen relieving in the fifth and Staats the catcher, were the Montgomery battery.

Chick Davis Drives in Four. Manager Chick Davis made his first mound appearance of the season on Friday against Neshanic and allowed only two hits as he racked up the 9-2 triumph. The home team, playing on the high school diamond to make way for the last game of the Midget League season on Brokaw Field (see below), blasted out 13 hits, including a double by Del Wible and a triple by Bob Montgomery.

Six hits, a walk and an error gave the P.A.C. seven runs in the first, all the scoring coming with two out, Bill Rodefeld and Ray Davis singled, Montgomery scoring both with his triple to right center.

Ammerman singled, Robin Foster was safe on an error and Bob Dennen walked to load the bases. Chick Davis then doubled to drive in two and Wible's two-bagger chased in the sixth and seventh runs of the big round.

Montgomery and Foster scored in the fourth on a single by Chick Davis, giving the winning hurler four runs batted in for the evening. Neshanic took a brief lead on a first-inning homer, and picked up its other run in the third. Davis fanned ten in the seven-inning contest.

The P.A.C. has a bye in the league this Friday and will play Blawenburg on Brokaw Field Tuesday at 6:15. Next Friday, July 1, it will meet Montgomery Township on the latter's diamond.

Social Club and Sunbeams Tie. A slim 6-5 triumph in a make-up game with the Sunbeams Sunday afternoon carried the Nassau Social Club into a first-place tie with the losers as the first round of play in the Eagles Community Softball League came to a close. Each team finished with a 6-1 mark.

Huck McCreedy was the Social Club's standout, getting credit for the victory and collecting a single and a triple at bat. Bucky Cupples also drove out a triple for the winners, while George Buccanfuso made two of the losers' seven hits.

The two leaders both won their regular games during the week, the Social Club turning back RCA, 15-4, with a 17-hit attack. Jack Lucey and McCreedy pitched for the Social Club, with Jim Kahny working for RCA. Cupples collected three hits, while McCreedy and Tim Harris got two apiece.

The Sunbeams edged the Jokers, 3-2, with Harry Kahny the winning pitcher. In another contest, the Eagles defeated Artistic Clippers, 4-2.

Games next Tuesday at 6:15 send the Eagles against the Sunbeams at Marquand Park; Frazzes against the Social Club on the RCA field; Applied Science Yankees Win Series. Sparked by the pitching performances of Gil Fisher and Fred Kneip, the Yankees won the Midget League Y.M.C.A. World Series on Brookview Field last week by two games to none for the Giants.

The Yankees won the first game, 11-9, with Fisher going the route for the victory. Silas Massey and Russell Perone split the mound chores for the Giants, with Perone coming in in the fourth.

In the second game, on Friday, the Yankees won by 4-1 to take the series. Kneip, who went the distance, stifled several Giant threats, while Massey did all the pitching for the losers. Sam Dodge and Leonard Eivers umpired both games.

Y.M.C.A. President Raymond Dowers gave the award to the World Series winners and pennant champions at the annual Father-and-Son Picnic. The outing was held Saturday in Marquand Park.

CUP WINNER: Ed McMillan, son of an All-American football player at Princeton, won the Coaches' Cup in baseball as the sophomore, showing the greatest improvement during the year.

Hutton, 6-2, 6-3. Third-seeded Ben Huby was upset by Larry Larkin, 7-5, 4-6, 6-1. John Chandler trimmed Bill Fitzinger, 9-7, 6-3, while Ken Boyd and fourth-seeded Nick Charney were the opponents for the fourth semi-finals berth.

In the girls' tournament, Esther Musselman, ranked first, downed Virginia Hutton, 6-3, 6-4. Second-seeded Karen Smith defeated Barbara Dilley, 6-2, 6-2 and Martha Rubinger, third in the seedings, conquered Delores Pluin, 6-4, 8-6. Nancy Craven, fourth among the girls in the pre-tournament rankings, bested Heidi Vermilya, 6-2, 6-2.

The finals are scheduled for Friday evening on the University Courts. Play in the men's singles will start July 6, with Manning Brown scheduled to defend his title. Entries may be made through the Y.M.C.A. at 129 John Street.

Tigers Improve. Princeton University teams compiled an overall winning average of .631 for the academic year just ended, winning 293 contests and losing 170. Six events finished in a tie.

The mark is considerably better than the .574 percentage recorded just 12 months ago, one of the lowest in modern Princeton athletic history. The all-time high for men was .725.

Varsity teams compiled a .631 average and took two Eastern championships. The basketball quintet, coached by Cappy Cappon, won the Ivy title in a tremendous uphill battle, trimming Columbia decisively in a rematch after finishing fourth in the first.

Swimming was a successful event for the Eastern title. The Toy Tigers rallied to defeat Navy in the championship game. Good records were also compiled in soccer, 150-lb. crew, swimming, fencing, tennis and golf, all of which topped the .800 mark. Varsity teams failing to break even were those in track, crew and equestrian.

Tigers Triumph. Syracuse Princeton's three crews could earn no better than a fifth place in the national rowing regatta on Lake Okauchaga at Syracuse Saturday. The Tiger freshmen and Jayvees were fifth among nine entries in each of their events; the varsity was eighth in a 12-crew field.

Cornell swept the river, winning all three races for the first time in the history of the traditional event. Penn was second, Navy third and Washington fourth. Wisconsin, M.I.T., Columbia and Syracuse were the four crews Princeton led over the finish line in the three-mile event.

Letter for Sargent. Jack Shepard of 36 Jefferson Road won a varsity letter in lacrosse at Amherst during the spring season. He played at mid-field as the team, in its second formal year, compiled a 5-3 record.

Shepard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Shepard. A graduate of The Hun School, he is a member of the Air Force ROTC at Amherst and belongs to the Beta Theta Pi fraternity.
